AROLWG CYMUNEDOL LLEDROD

Diffinnir ardal yr astudiaeth hon gan ffin ardal y Cyngor Cymuned modern.

I raddau helaeth, mae'r safleoedd hanesyddol ac archaeolegol sydd wedi eu cofnodi o fewn yr ardal yn nodwediadol o'r math o safleoedd a ganfyddir ar draws gweddill Canolbarth Ceredigion.

Yn Rhan 1 o'r adroddiad hon, cyflwynir esboniad o'r prif ffrydiau hanesyddol sydd ar glawr, fesul cyfnod archaeolegol. Mae rhai themâu lleol cryf hefyd yn cael eu cyflwyno i derfynu.

Mae Rhan 2 yn cynnwys rhestr o'r safleoedd sydd ar glawr yn ôl math y safle, gyda chyfres o fapiau thematig i ddangos eu lleoliad o fewn y gymuned.

Yn Rhan 3, cyflwynir manylion yr holl safleoedd archaeolegol ac hanesyddol sydd wedi eu cofnodi yn y Cofnod Safleoedd a Henebion. Er bod rhestr hir o safleoedd wedi ei chynnwys fe welir, yn ddiua, fod yna safleoedd a lleoedd o bwys hanesyddol nad ydynt wedi eu cofnodi eto. Ein gobaith yw y bydd gwybodaeth ychwanegol yn cael ei ychwanegu i'r cofnodion yn sgil y gwaith hwn i greu cofnod llawnach a chywirach o hanes y gymuned.

LLEDROD COMMUNITY AUDIT

The area of this study is defined by the boundaries of the modern Community Council area.

To a large extent, the historic sites that are recorded within this area are typical of the site types that are to be found across the rest of Central Ceredigion. The information included in this working report is derived solely from the regional Sites and Monuments Record that is maintained by Cambria Archaeology.

Part 1 of this report includes a description of the main historical themes that are known to us, arranged by archaeological period. Some themes of particular relevance to the community are presented in summary.

Part 2 includes a list of all recorded sites arranged by site type, with a series of thematic maps showing their location within the community.

Part 3 includes details of all archaeological and historical sites recorded in the Sites and Monuments Record. Despite there being a long list of sites presented here, it will doubtlessly be the case that there will be sites and themes of historic importance that are not included. It is to be hoped that new information can be added to the record as a result of this project in order to create a fuller and more accurate record of the community's history.

RHAN 1: Hanes ac archaeoleg

PART 1: History and archaeology

Mesolithig (10000 CC – 4000 CC)

Yn ystod y cyfnod pell hwn, tybir bod cymunedau dynol yn defnyddio coedwigodd naturiol yr ardal fryniog yma ar gyfer hela yn achlysuol. Roedd pobol y cyfnod yn helwyr-gasglwyr, nid ffermwyr, ac felly yn tueddu crwydro o fan i fan yn hytrach na byw mewn mannau sefydlog.

Gan nad oedd ynt yn adeiladu tai parhaol na chladdu mewn beddau y medrwn ni eu hadnabod heddiw, mae'n anodd canfod safleoedd sy'n dangos presenoldeb bobol yr oes yma. Yn aml, yr unig arwyddion y gellir eu hadnabod yw'r gwasgariadau fflint gadawsant wrth wneud eu teclynnau ac sydd yn dynodi'r safleoedd lle y byddai grwpiau o'r helwyr hyn yn aros am gyfnod, a hefyd arfau fflint a gollwyd neu taflwyd i ffwrdd.

Ychydig o safleoedd tebyg sydd wedi eu hadnabod hyd yma yn y fro hon. Mae yna wasgariadau o fflint wedi eu darganfod mewn ardaloedd corsog i'r dwyrain a gogledd-ddwyrain, ond ni wyddom am yr un o fewn cymuned Lledrod yn bresennol.

Neolithig (4000 CC – 2500 CC)

Hyd y gwyddys, nid oes yr un safle na darganfyddiad yn y gymuned sydd wedi ei briodoli i'r cyfnod yma yn bresennol.

Nid yw hynny i ddweud nad oedd yna bresenoldeb dynol yma yn ystod y cyfnod hwn, wrth gwrs. Mae darganfyddiadau o fwyelli Neolithig wedi eu cofnodi mewn cymunedau cyfagos, gan gynnwys Ystrad Fflur i'r dwyrain.

Y Neolithig oedd oes y ffermwyr cyntaf yn y wlad ac mae'n lled bosibl roedd y broses o ffermio'r tir wedi dechrau yn yr ardal yma hefyd. Mae archaeoleg yn dangos yn eglur inni fod yna gymdeithas drefnus yma yn ystod Oes yr Efydd ac fe all fod ei seiliau i'w canfod yn y Neolithig.

Oes yr Efydd (2500 CC – 800 CC)

Gorwedd Lledrod cryn bellter i'r gorllewin o fynyddoedd y canolbarth, lle ceir enghreifftiau niferus o garneddau claddu Oes yr Efydd ar y mynydd-dir agored. Sut bynnag, mae nifer cymharol fawr o henebion tebyg i'w cael o fewn cymuned Lledrod, rhai ohonynt mewn cyflwr da iawn (e.e. carneddau PRN 1965-1966 a'r maenhir PRN43517).

Er y gallwn adnabod rhai o'r safleoedd lle claddwyd y meirw yn ystod Oes yr Efydd, mae absenoldeb o dystiolaeth am anheddu pobl y cyfnod ar hyn o bryd. Un math o safle sy'n anodd i'w deall ond sydd fel rheol yn cael ei briodoli i Oes yr Efydd yw'r "aelwydydd" neu bentyrrau o gerrig llosg. Credir bod y twmpathau hyn yn fannau coginio, neu hyd yn oed yn chwystai (sweat lodges) hynafol, ond nid yw'n bosibl eto dehongli eu rôl mewn cymdeithas oedd yn cael ei nodweddu gan boblogaeth amaethyddol, sefydlog. Ceir un enghraift yn lleol (PRN 1982).

Mae darganfyddiadau lleol o fwyelli efydd a cherrig yn ein helpu i ddod yn agosach at bobl y cyfnod hefyd. Mae enghreifftiau da wedi eu cofnodi yn yr ardal hon (e.e. PRN 8288, 12200 a 12203).

Dylid cofio fod yna dystiolaeth bellach fod dystiolaeth am gloddio mwynau yn ystod Oes yr Efydd wedi dod o ardaloedd ymhellach i'r dwyrain, yn enwedig ar Fryn Copa, Cwmystwyth, Pontarfynach. Gall hyn dangos pwysigrwydd yr ardal a elwir Canolbarth Ceredigion heddiw, yn ystod y cyfnod pell hwn. Mae angen gwneud llawer o waith eto cyn y deallwn natur y cymunedau oedd yn bodoli yma yn ystod y cyfnod hwn, a chyfnodau cynharach.

Yr Oes Haearn (800 CC – 43 OC)

Ychydig o dystiolaeth o'r Oes Haearn wedi eu canfod yn y gymuned hyd yma. Dim ond un darganfyddiad perthnasol sydd wedi ei gofnodi, sef darganfyddiad pwys gwþedd (loom-weight PRN8315) o'r math a ddefnyddiwyd yn ystod y cyfnod hwn a'r cyfnod Rhufeinig.

Ymhllith y safleoedd sy'n nodwediadol o'r cyfnod hwn y mae'r bryngaerau amddiffynnol, a godwyd er mwyn diogelu pobl ac eiddo mewn cymdeithas oedd yn cael ei dominyddu gan penaethiaid rhyfelgar a'u gosgorddion. 'Does yr un o'r rhain o fewn y gymuned, hyd y gwyddom, ond, mae engrheifftiau da o fryngaerau cryf mewn cymunedau eraill yng nghanolbarth Ceredigion. Felly, gallwn dybio fod ffermio ac anheddu parhaol yn yr ardal yn ystod y cyfnod yma, yn ogystal â defnydd o goedwigoedd a phorfeydd mynyddig.

Mae'n bwysig i gadw mewn golwg y posibilrwydd fod y rhan fwyaf o bobl y cyfnod yn treulio eu bywydau yn ffermio'r tir ac yn byw mewn tai a bythynnod gwasgaredig. O bosibl, wnaethon nhw'n dianc i ddiogelwch y caerau ar adegau o ryfel neu ymosodiadau gan lwythi eraill.

Y Cyfnod Rhufeinig (43 OC – 410 OC)

Eto, ychydig iawn a wyddom am yr ardal yn ystod y cyfnodau Rhufeinig (y ganrif 1af OC – 4ydd ganrif OC), ar wahân i'r ffaith fod yr heol Rhufeinig (PRN 5222) oedd yn cysylltu caer y Rhufeiniaid yn Nhrawsgoed, i'r gogledd, â chaer Llanio, i'r de, yn rhedeg trwy'r gymuned.

Hyd yma, 'does dim dystiolaeth i ddangos faint o ddylanwad gafodd Rhufain ar y fro ond mae'n bosibl fod ardal wledig fel hyn wedi teimlo cryn dipyn o newid diwylliannol ac economaidd dros bron i 400 mlynedd o ddylanwad gan y byd Rhufeinig.

Yr Oesoedd Tywyll neu "Oes y Saint" (410 OC – 1092 OC)

Yn ôl traddodiad, cai Geredigion ei enw oddi wrth Ceredig fab Cunedda, tywysog Cymreig a ddaeth i'r fro o Ogledd Prydain er mwyn amddiffyn arfordir gorllewinol y Cymry oddi wrth y Gwyddelod. Dywed traddodiad hefyd fod y Ceredig hwn yn daid i Dewi Sant, mabsant Cymru.

Yn nhraddodiad Cymreig, "Oes y Saint" yw'r enw sy'n cael ei rhoi ar y cyfnod hwn yn aml, yn hytrach na'r Oesoedd Tywyll, i dystio am dwf yr eglwys trwy ymdrechion llu o saint Celtaidd cynnar. Gwelir hwn fel cyfnod o oleuni yn hytrach na thywyllwch yng Nghymru gan lawer i hanesydd.

Er bod y traddodiadau yn hysbys inni, gwyddom ond ychydig am gymdeithas y cyfnod yn yr ardal hon. Serch hynny, mae dystiolaeth o weithgarwch y saint cynnar yn ardal Lledrod yn y cysegriad o eglwys plwyf Blaenpennal (PRN 5162) i Dewi Sant ei hunan. Cysegrwyd eglwys Lledrod (PRN 12434) i St Mihangel a Llanfihangel Lledrod yw enw hanesyddol y plwyf. Yn aml, cysylltir cysegriadau i Fihangel gyda safleoedd ar ben bryniau neu fannau uchel eraill. Ni wyddom pryd sefydlwyd yr eglwysi lleol hyn, ond gall eu gwreiddiau fod yn yr Oesoedd Tywyll.

Roedd Ffynnon Drewi (PRN 6130) yn ffynnon sanctaidd yn y Canoloesoedd ac fe gredid fod gan ei dyfroedd grymoedd iachau. Mae traddodiadau am rym iachau'r ffynhonnau sanctaidd yn dyddio yn ôl i Oes y Saint hefyd. Gall fod mai Ffynnon Dewi oedd enw'r ffynnon hon yn wreiddiol.

Mae'n bosibl fod safleoedd rhai eglwysi mewn ardaloedd cyfagos yn hynafol iawn, gyda'u gwreiddiau yn y cyfnod hwn. Meddyliwn yn bennaf, wrth gwrs, am eglwys hynafol Llanddewi Brefi i'r de, sy'n gysylltiedig â hanes Dewi Sant ei hun. Mae tair carreg hynafol â chroesau wedi eu cerfio arnynt i'w gweld hefyd yn Eglwys Llantrisant, Pontarfynach, i'r gogledd. Maent yn dyddio i'r cyfnod rhwng tua 600 OC a 1100 OC ac yn brawf o weithgarwch yr eglwys yn y fro.

Y Canoloesoedd (1092 OC – 1540 OC)

Yn ystod y cyfnod hwn y gwelwn Geredigion yn dod yn un o brif ranbarthau Cymru. Cafodd ei goncro gan y Normaniaid yn 1093 a dilynodd gyfnod ansicr iawn, gyda'r Cymry a'r Normaniaid yn brwydro am oruchafiaeth am 200 mlynedd bron. Yn ystod ail-hanner y 12fed ganrif, daeth Ceredigion i fod yn than annatod o deyrnas Ddeheubarth, o dan arweinyddiaeth Rhys ap Gruffudd, Yr Arglwydd Rhys, o Ddinefwr. Ar ôl ei farwolaeth ef, bu gwrthdar o ymhellach rhwng ei feibion a Llywelyn Fawr o Wynedd. Ni ddihangodd Ceredigion oddi wrth ryfeloedd y 13eg ganrif ychwaith, pan goncwerwyd Cymru gyfan adeg cwympl Llywelyn ap Gruffudd.

Y gwybodaeth sicraf yn ein meddiant mewn cysylltiad â'r ardal ehangach yw'r hanes sydd ar glawr am ddatblygiad ystadau Abaty Ystrad Fflur o'r 12fed ganrif ymlaen. Sefydlwyd Ystrad Fflur gan Dywysogion Deheubarth, gyda'r Arglwydd Rhys ei hunan yn rhoi tiroedd fel rhoddion i'r mynachod. Dros amser ychwanegwyd tiroedd eang at feddiannau'r abaty.

Mae manylion rhai o'r rhoddion hyn o dir wedi goroesi hyd heddiw ac mae ffiniau'r ystadau yn dal i fod yn hysbys. Roedd rhan o gymuned Lledrod, sef ochr ddwyreiniol plwyf Blaenpennal, yn syrthio o fewn ffiniau Ystad Blaenaeron, un o ystadau Ystrad Fflur.

Roedd y ddwy eglwys sydd o fewn y gymuned, St. Dewi, Blaenpennal a St.Mihangel, Lledrod yn bodoli yn ystod y Canoloesoedd. Roedd plwyf Llanfihangel Lledrod yn ffurfio rhan o Arglwyddiaeth Mefynydd, oedd yn eiddo i Goron Lloegr. Rhennid y plwyf i mewn i Lledrod Isaf a Lledrod Uchaf. Soniodd John Leland, y teithiwr o Loegr, am Flaenpennal yn y 1530au, a'i disgrifio fel capel o dan awdurdod eglwys Llanddewi Brefi; nid oedd Blaenpennal yn blwyf annibynnol tan y cyfnod Ôl-ganoloesol.

Roedd ardal y Mynydd Bach, sy'n ffurfio rhan o dirwedd ar ochr orllewinol y gymuned, yn cael ei defnyddio fel tir comin gan Ystrad Fflur yn ogystal ag ystadau secwlar yn y Canoloesoedd. Mae darnau o dir comin i'w cael yn ardal y Mynydd Bach ac o fewn y gymuned o hyd, ond dim byd tebyg i'r hyn oedd i'w cael yn ystod y Canoloesoedd. Roedd y bryniau hyn yn rhostir agored hyd at y 18fed ganrif pan gaewyd miloedd o erwau o fynydd dir i mewn a'u gwella fel tir amaethyddol. Cyn hynny, byddai hafotai yn britho'r bryniau dros fisioedd yr haf, gyda bugeiliaid yn gwarchod anifeiliaid o'r ardaloedd o gwmpas Mynydd Bach. Byddai'r bugeiliaid a'r anifeiliaid yn dychwelyd i'r hendrefi ar dir isel ar gyfer misoedd y gaeaf.

Y Cyfnod Ôl-ganoloesol (1540 OC – 1900 OC)

Diwydiant

Yn annhebyg i gymunedau'r ardal mwyngloddio i'r gorllewin a'r gogledd, mae Lledrod wedi aros yn gymuned wledig ar hyd y canrifoedd. 'Does dim un mwynglawdd wedi ei gofnodi yn y gymuned ac yr unig safleoedd diwydiannol yw nifer o chwareli bach lle cloddiwyd am gerrig adeiladu neu raean ers lawer dydd.

Mae'n bwysig hefyd i gofio am bwysigrwydd torri mawn ar rostiroedd y Mynydd Bach i'r gymuned leol hyd at y 20fed ganrif. Roedd mawn yn rhad ac yn hawdd i'w gael ac felly yn danwydd poblogaidd yng Nghanolbarth Ceredigion, lle mae coed wedi bod yn gymharol brin ers amser maeth.

Mae o leiaf un felin ŷd wedi ei chofnodi yn lleol hefyd, ym mhentref Lledrod (PRN 26391). Ni wyddom os mai melinau ŷd neu felinau gwlan oedd y ddwy felin arall yn y gymuned (PRN 19121 a PRN 42770).

Gwasanaethwyd cymunedau cyfagos i'r dwyrain a'r gorllewin gan rheilffordd y Milford & Manchester yn o ddiwedd y 19eg ganrif hyd at ail-hanner yr 20fed ganrif. Er nad oedd y lein wedi rhedeg trwy'r gymuned, gwnaeth llawer i hybu masnach a datblygiad yn yr ardal yn ddi-os.

Amaeth ac Anheddu Gwledig

Ers canrifoedd, mae natur amaethyddiaeth y fro wedi cael ei nodweddu gan ffermydd a phentrefi bychain gwasgaredig a ffermio sydd wedi bod yn asgwrn gefn y fro ers cyfnodau cynnar. Roedd y traddodiad o ffermydd yr ardal yn symud eu creaduriaid i borfeydd mynyddig Mynydd Bach dros fisiodd yr haf wedi parhau ar ôl diwedd y Canoloesoedd. Newidiodd traddodiad yr hafodydd canoloesol erbyn y 17eg ganrif i draddodiad y lluestau, gyda bugeiliaid a'u teuluoedd yn byw yn barhaol ar y mynydd-diroedd yn hytrach nag yn dymhorol.

Ar ddechrau'r 19eg ganrif, pan gaewyd i mewn y rhan helaeth o'r tir comin ar y Mynydd Bach, rhyddhawyd tiroedd newydd ar gyfer ffermio ac anheddu. Ymddangosodd nifer sylweddol o dyddynnod a ffermydd newydd ar yr hen diroedd pori hyn, ac fe dyfodd gymdeithas ar y Mynydd wnaeth barhau am lai na chanrif. Erbyn ail-hanner y 19eg ganrif, roedd dirwasgiad a'r ffordd galed o fyw ar dir uchel y Mynydd Bach wedi argyhoeddi llawer i geisio well byd y tu draw i Fôr yr Iwerydd a gwelwyd llu o bobl yn ymfudo i'r Amerig. Heddiw, saif dwsinau o adfeilion fel cofebion i'r gymdeithas a fu yma.

Roedd y broses o gau tir comin y Mynydd Bach ddim yn un esmwyth ychwaith. Roedd Sais o'r enw Augustus Brackenbury wedi prynu 850 erw o dir mynyddig oddi wrth y llywodraeth ym 1820 a cheisio codi tai yno. Roedd ei weithredoedd wedi ennyn gwrthwynebiad chwyrn y ffermwyr a thyddynwyr lleol. Arweiniodd hyn at y gwrthdarol a elwid "Rhyfel y Sais Bach," wrth i drigolion yr ardal ceisio amddiffyn eu hawliau traddodiadol i ddefnyddio'r mynydd a'i adnoddau naturiol.

Mae'r patrwm anheddu modern yn dal i fod yn un o anheddu gwasgaredig ar y cyfan, gydag ond ychydig o bentrefi wedi datblygu dros y 200 mlynedd diwethaf, fel Lledrod, Blaenpennal, Bontnewydd a Bronnant. Mae'r rhain wedi tyfu i gynnwys eglwysi, capeli, melinau a gefeiliau, yn bennaf yn ganlyniad i ddatblygiadau cymdeithasol ac economaidd y cyfnod Ôl-ddiwyaidd.

Elfen bwysig ym mywyd y gymuned wledig yn yr oesoedd o'r blaen oedd y ffeiriau blynnyddol. Cynhaliwyd ffair ym mhentref Lledrod ar Fedi'r 7fed.

Anghyddfurfiaeth

Y Methodistiaid Calfinaidd oedd yr enwad cryfaf yn y fro, ac mae nifer o gapeli ac ysgoldai Methodistiaidd o fewn y gymuned. Capel Rhydlwyd, sy'n dyddio yn wreiddiol i 1755, yw'r hynaf. Mae disgrifiad wedi goroesi o'r capel cyntaf yma;

"Ty bychan oedd hwn, a gwael yr olwg arno. Pridd oedd ei furiau, a brwyn oedd ei do. Yr oedd y pulpud yn ei dalcen... Yr oedd simdde yn y talcen arall, ac ar y llawr neu yr aelwyd yr oed ychydig o dywyrrch, lle y byddid yn achlysurol yn cyneu y tân, yn enwedig ar gyfarfodydd eglwysig pan y byddai yr hin yn oer iawn... Ni allai fod yn y fath fwthyn bychan llwyd yr un math o at-dyniad daearol; os oedd yma rhyw beth yn tynu ato yma, rhaid mai nid gwychder y lle na'r cwmni; eto, yr oedd yma sugh o natur uwch a mwy ysbyrydol. Rhoddid yma rhyw arwyddion o'r presenoldeb dwyfol, yn awr ac eilwaith, ag a lanwai y lle tlawd â gogoniant ac â mawredd, na cheir mohono yn nghanol gorwydher ysblenydd y byd hwn."

Roedd un o bregethwyr pwysicaf y Methodistiaid yn y 18fed ganrif, Dafydd Morris (1744-1791), yn dod o Ledrod. Roedd yn enwog yn ei ddydd fel pregethwyr grymus iawn a gwnaeth llawer i ehangu dylanwad Methodistiaeth yn y gogledd.

Enillodd yr Annibynwyr rhywfaint o dir yn yr ardal yn y 18fed ganrif ac roedd yr achos ym Mheniel yn un Annibynnol i gychwyn. Roedd yr Annibynwyr yn cwrdd yn Hendre, cartref y Parch Philip Pugh. Cyn iddo farw ym 1761, awgrymodd iaelodau'r achos y dylen nhw droi at Daniel Rowland, Llangeitho am gymorth ar ôl ei ddydd ef, a dyna a wnaed. Sefydlwyd Capel Peniel fel capel Methodistiaidd ym 1783.

Addysg

Roedd ysgolgy yn ymyl eglwys St. Mihangel yn Lledrod yn y 19eg ganrif. Pan ddaeth arolygwyr y Comisiwn ar Addysg yng Nghymru i Ledrod ym 1846, adroddwyd bod yr ysgol hon yn cwrdd yn achlysurol ac ysgolion Sul gyda'r Methodistiaid yn Rhydlwyd a Bronnant. Yn ddiweddarach yn y 19eg ganrif, sefydlwyd ysgolion cynradd ym mhentrefi Lledrod a Bronnant, sy'n dal ar agor.

Ieuan Brydydd Hir

Cymeriad hanesyddol o bwys oedd yn hanu o Gynhawdre, Lledrod (bellach o fewn cymuned Ystrad Meurig) oedd y Parch. Evan Evans (1731 – 1788), neu Ieuan Brydydd Hir, i ddefnyddio ei enw barddonol. Curad Anglicanaidd oedd Evan Evans. Cafodd ei addysg gynnar yn ysgol ramadeg Edward Richard yn Ystrad Meurig, cyn mynd ymlaen i Goleg Merton, Rhydychen. Ymdrechodd i amddiffyn statws yr iaith Gymraeg a thraddodiadau Cymru ar adeg pan oedd yr Eglwys Anglicanaidd yng Nghymru yn troi yn fwywfwy Seisnigaidd. Roedd yn fardd rhagorol hefyd, ac yn gyfaill i'r enwog Lewis Morris. Claddwyd Evan Evans ym Mynwent Lledrod.

Prif themâu

Yn fras, dyma rhestr o'r brif themâu hanesyddol y gellir eu hadnabod yn seiliedig ar y gwybodaeth sy'n cael ei gynnwys yn y Cofnod Safleoedd a Henebion;

1. Y ffordd Rhufeinig. Mae presenoldeb y ffordd o fewn y gymuned yn fater o ddiddordeb y dylid tynnu sylw ato.
2. Mae hanes cynnar y seintiau sy'n gysylltiedig â'r eglwysi lleol, ynghyd â ffynnon sanctaidd Ffynnon Drewi yn tema ddiddorol.
3. Mynydd Bach. Mae defnydd y mynydd fel tir pori gan bugeliaid ers canrifoedd yn hanes diddorol, yn enwedig o ystyried fod y Mynydd Bach yn dominyddu y dirwedd ar hyd ochr orllewinol y plwyf. Mae hanes amgáu y tir comin, a thwf a dirywiad y tyddynnod a blannwyd yna hefyd o ddiddordeb.
4. Bywyd pentrefol. Mae hanes cymdeithasol pentrefi bychain fel Lledrod a Blaenpennal yn rhoi cipolwg i mewn i fywyd bob dydd trigolion y fro yn y cyfnod diweddaraf.
5. Ieuan Brydydd Hir. Mae Evan Evans yn ffigwr o bwys cenedlaethol am ei astudiaethau o lenyddiaeth Gymraeg gynnar, ei farrdoniaeth ei hun a'i gefnogaeth i'r iaith Gymraeg yn ystod y 18fed ganrif.

Part 1: History and archaeology

Mesolithic (10000BC – 4000BC)

During this distant period, it is thought that human communities periodically used the natural forests of this hilly area as hunting grounds. The people of the time were hunter-gatherers and therefore moved from place to place rather than staying in settled communities.

As they didn't build permanent houses, or bury their dead in graves that we can recognise today, it is difficult to find sites associated with Mesolithic peoples. Often, the only evidence that we can recognise are the flint scatters derived from tool making activities, which denote the sites where groups of hunters would stay for a time, as well as flint tools that were lost or discarded.

Very few sites of relevance are known at present in this area. Flint scatters have been reported in areas of peat bog to the east and northeast, but there are none presently known within Lledrod community.

Neolithic (4000BC – 2500BC)

As far as is known, there are currently no sites of this period confirmed to be located within the community.

That is not to say that there was no human presence in the area during this period of course. There have been discoveries of Neolithic stone axes in neighbouring communities, including Ystrad Fflur, to the east.

The Neolithic was the age of the first farmers in the country and it is possible that the process of farming the land began locally during this period. Archaeology shows quite clearly that there was a settled human presence in the district during the Bronze Age and it may be that the origins of that society lie in the Neolithic.

Bronze Age (2500BC – 800BC)

Lledrod lies some distance to the west of the main Cambrian mountain range where a great number of Bronze Age burial mounds are known on the open mountain ground. However, Lledrod community has a number of comparable monuments, some in very good condition a (e.g. burial cairns PRN 1965-1966 and the standing stone PRN43517).

Although we can identify some of the sites where Bronze Age people buried their dead, there is an absence of evidence at present for the settlements in which the population lived. An enigmatic prehistoric site type usually attributed to the Bronze Age is the "burnt mound." These piles of burnt stone are thought to be cooking places, or alternatively the sites of ancient sweat-lodges, but we do not understand how they may have related to community life in what was a society characterised by a settled, farming population. There is one burnt mound recorded locally (PRN 1982).

Local discoveries of bronze and stone axes also help bring us closer in touch with the people of the period. Good examples of such tools are known locally (PRNs 8288, 12200 and 12203).

It should also be remembered that there is now evidence for Bronze Age ore mining in adjacent districts, especially at Copa Hill, Cwmystwyth, Pontarfynach, which may indicate the relative importance of what is now central Ceredigion during the period. Much more work will be needed in future before we will be able to properly understand the nature of the communities that existed in the area during this period, and during earlier times.

Iron Age (800BC – 43AD)

There is little recorded evidence of Iron Age date within the community at present. Only one find of relevance has been recorded, namely a loom-weight (PRN 8315) of the type used during this period and the Roman period.

This period is noted for the defensive hillforts, which were built to defend people and property in a society characterised by warrior chieftains and war bands. There is no hillfort known within the community at present, but there are good examples in other communities in central Ceredigion. We can therefore surmise that farming and permanent settlement were established in the area by this time, along with the exploitation of local woodland and hill pasture.

It is important that we do not lose sight of the possibility that the majority of people in the area during this period were engaged in farming the land, living in scattered houses and huts. Perhaps escaping to the forts at times of war or when attacked by other tribes.

The Roman Period (43AD – 410AD)

Again, we know very little about the area during the Roman period (1st century AD – 4th century AD), other than that the Roman road (PRN 5222) that connected the Roman forts at Trawsgoed, to the north, and Llanio, to the south, runs through the community.

At present, there is no evidence to show to what degree Roman influences affected the area but it is possible that life in a rural area such as this felt considerable cultural and economic influences from the Roman world during nearly 400 years of contact.

The Dark Ages or “The Age of the Saints” (410AD – 1092AD)

According to tradition, Ceredigion is named after Ceredig son of Cunedda, a Welsh prince who came from North Britain to defend the west coast from Irish incursions. Tradition also has it that St David, the patron saint of Wales, was the grandson of Ceredig.

Also in Welsh tradition, this period in history is often referred to as “The Age of the Saints,” rather than the Dark Ages, because of the growth of the early church by the efforts of numerous Celtic saints. It is seen as an age of enlightenment, rather than a dark age, in Wales by many historians.

Despite such traditions being known to us, we know very little about the society of the time in this district during this period. There is evidence of the activities of the early church in the Lledrod area in the dedication of the church at Blaenpennal (PRN 5162) to St David and the church at Lledrod (PRN 12434) to St Michael; Llanfihangel Lledrod is the historical name of the parish. Michael dedications are often associated with Celtic churches on hilltops or other high places. We do not know when the local churches were founded, but their origins may lie in the Dark Ages.

Ffynnon Drewi (Stinking Well - PRN 6130) was a holy well in medieval times and its waters were believed to have healing powers. The tradition of the curative waters of such holy wells dates back to the Age of the Saints also. It is possible that this well was originally known as Ffynnon Dewi (David's Well).

It is possible that some churches in the adjacent areas are ancient, with their origins in this period. In particular, we think of the ancient church of Llandewi Brefi, to the south, which is associated with St David. There are also three Early Christian stones at Llantrisant church, Pontarfynach with crosses carved onto them. These date to the period c. 600 AD to 1100 AD and are proof of ecclesiastical activity in the district.

The Medieval Period (1092AD – 1540AD)

During this period, we see Ceredigion developing as one of the most important regions in Wales. It was conquered by the Normans in 1093 and thereafter followed a period of uncertainty, with the Welsh and Normans fighting for supremacy for nearly 200 years. During the second half of the 12th century, Ceredigion became an integral part of the kingdom of Deheubarth, led by Rhys ap Gruffudd, The Lord Rhys of Dinefwr. Following his death, there was further warfare between his sons and Llywelyn Fawr of Gwynedd. Ceredigion was also affected by the wars of the later 13th century, when Wales was finally conquered upon the fall of Llywelyn ap Gruffudd.

The most reliable information we have from the Medieval period is that of the development of the granges of Strata Florida Abbey from the 12th century onwards. The Princes of Deheubarth founded Strata Florida, with the Lord Rhys himself granting lands to the monks. Over time extensive estates were granted to the Abbey.

The details of some of these land grants have survived and the extent of the granges still known. Part of Lledrod community, namely the eastern edge of Blaenpennal parish, fell within the boundaries of the Blaenaeron grange, which was a possession of Strata Florida.

There were two churches medieval within the community, St Davids, Blaenpennal and St.Michael, Lledrod. Llanfihangel Lledrod parish formed part of the Lordship of Mefenydd, a possession of the English Crown. The parish was divided into Lower Lledrod and Upper Lledrod. John Leland, the English traveller, mentioned Blaenpennal in the 1530s, describing it as a chapelry under the authority of Llandewi Brefi church; Blaenpennal did not become an independent parish until the post-Medieval period.

The Mynydd Bach area, which forms part of the landscape on the western side of the community, was used as common land by Strata Florida and secular estates during medieval times. Portions of common land still survive on Mynydd Bach and elsewhere in the community, but on a much reduced scale compared to that which was available during Medieval times. The hills there were open moorland until the early 19th century, when thousands of acres of mountain land were enclosed and improved. In Medieval times, these hills were dotted with hafodydd during the summer months, the summer homes of herdsmen from communities around Mynydd Bach. The herdsmen and their animals would return to the homesteads or hendrefi in the lowlands for the winter season.

Post-medieval (1540 AD – 1900 AD)

Industry

Unlike neighbouring mining communities to the north and west, Lledrod has remained a rural community. There are no recorded metal mines within the community area and the only local industrial sites are a number of small quarries excavated in the past for stone or gravel.

It is also important to remember the significance of peat cutting on Mynydd Bach to the local community until the early 20th century. Peat was a cheap and plentiful fuel source much used in Central Ceredigion, where wood has long been in short supply.

There is at least one corn mill recorded locally also, in Lledrod village (PRN 26391). It is not known if two other recorded mills in the community were corn or woollen mills (PRN 19121 and PRN 42770).

The area was served by the Milford and Manchester Railway during the late 19th and for most of the 20th centuries. Although this railway did not pass directly through the community, it undoubtedly did much to encourage trade and development in the district.

Farming and Rural Settlement

For centuries, the local landscape has been characterised by scattered farms and small hamlets and farming has been one of the mainstays of the area since early times. The farms of the community are continued to move stock to the mountain pasture on Mynydd Bach for summer grazing after the end of the Medieval period. The medieval tradition of the hafod had come to an end by the 17th century, replaced by the lluest tradition, with shepherds and their families living on the common in cottages known as lluestau, permanently rather than on a seasonal basis.

In the early 19th century, when much of the Mynydd Bach common was enclosed, new land was released for farming and settlement. A large number of new smallholdings and farms appeared on the old mountain pasturelands and a new society grew, but one which was to last for less than a century. By the end of the 19th century, economic depression and hardship persuaded many of the settlers here to look for a better life on the other side of the Atlantic and a great number emigrated to America. Today, dozens of ruined dwellings stand as memorials to the community that once existed here.

The process of enclosing the Mynydd Bach common did not always run smoothly. An Englishmen named Augustus Brackenbury bought 850 acres of mountain ground from the government in 1820 and tried to build houses on his new lands. His actions attracted the opposition of farmers and smallholders in the area. This led to an enclosure war known as "Rhyfel y Sais Bach," (The Little Englishman's War) as local people tried to protect their traditional rights to use the mountain and its natural resources.

The modern settlement pattern is still one of scattered dwellings, with only a few small villages having developed during the last 200 years, such as Lledrod, Blaenpennal, Bontnewydd and Bronnant. These are typically gathered around churches, chapels, mills and smithies and very much a product of post-medieval social and economic developments.

An important element in the life of the local community in the past in times gone by were the annual fairs. A fair was held in Lledrod village on September 7th.

Nonconformism

The Calvinistic Methodists were the strongest denomination in the area in the past, and there are several Methodist chapels and schoolhouses in the community. Capel Rhydlwyd, which dates originally to 1755, is the oldest. This early description of the first chapel here has survived;

"This was a small building, which looked very poor. It had earth floors, and a roof of reed-thatch. The pulpit was at the gable end... There was a chimney in the other gable end, and on the floor, or hearth, were a few peat-turfs, where a fire would sometimes be lit, especially for church meetings when the weather was very cold. Such a poor building could not possibly have possessed any form of earthly attraction; if there was indeed any form of attraction, it was not in the splendour of the place or the company there; it was in something of a higher, more spiritual form. Now and again signs of a divine presence were felt, and this poor place was filled with a greatness that cannot be found anywhere amongst the rich wonders of this world."

One of the most important Methodist preachers of the 18th century, Dafydd Morris (1744-1791), came from Lledrod. He was famed in his day as a powerful preacher and did much to spread the Methodist cause in the north.

The Independents won some ground in the district during the 18th century and the cause at Peniel began as an Independent cause. The Independents met at Hendre, the home of the Rev. Philip Pugh. Before he died in 1761, he advised his members that they should turn to Daniel Rowland, Llangeitho for leadership upon his death. This they did and Capel Peniel was founded as a Methodist chapel in 1783.

Education

There was a schoolhouse in the churchyard of St. Michael's, Lledrod during the 19th century. When the inspectors of the Commission on Education in Wales came to Lledrod in 1846, they reported that this school met only occasionally and that there were Methodist schools at Rhydlwyd and Bronnant. Later in the 19th century, the present primary schools at Lledrod and Bronnant villages were founded, which remain open.

Ieuan Brydydd Hir

A figure of historic importance who came from Cynhawdre, Lledrod (now within Ystrad Meurig community) was the Rev. Evan Evans (1731 – 1788), or Ieuan Brydydd Hir, to give his bardic name. Evan Evans was an Anglican curate. He had his early education at Edward Richard's grammar school at Ystrad Meurig, before going on to Merton College, Oxford. He worked to defend the status of the Welsh language and Welsh traditions at a time when the Anglican Church in Wales was becoming increasingly anglicised. He was also a fine poet and a friend of the famous Lewis Morris. Evan Evans is buried in Lledrod churchyard.

Main themes

In outline, this list presents the main historical themes that can be identified from the information held within the Sites and Monuments Record.

1. The Roman Road. The presence of this road within the community is a matter of great interest to which attention should be drawn.
2. The history of the saints associated with local churches, along with the holy well of Ffynnon Drewi is a theme of interest.
3. Mynydd Bach. The use of the mountain by shepherds for centuries is an interesting historical theme, especially as Mynydd Bach dominates the landscape along the western edge of the community. The story of the enclosure of the common and the farms that grew on the land afterwards is also of interest.
4. Village life. The social history of the small villages, such as Lledrod and Blaenpennal, gives an insight into everyday life of local people in more recent times.
5. Ieuan Brydydd Hir. Evan Evans is a figure of national importance through his studies of early Welsh poetry, his own poetry and his support for the Welsh language during the 18th century.

A substantial three roomed drystone building measuring 6m x 20m on an E-W axis with the West gable end largely intact up to about 4m in height. Other walls stand up to 2m-3m high but are collapsed in several places. The walls are mostly 0.80m wide. Ruination has obscured most features but see sketch drawing for general characteristics (In DRF). The structure stands on a terraced platform cut into the slope. A 3m x 6m yard is left open at the East end of the terrace, defined by good stone revetting of the terrace edge on the East and South sides. The wallplate is defined by "dripstone" line at 2.3m high seen in the gable ends. A track passes E-W on the North side of the dwelling and to the NW is a garden enclosure measuring 20m N-S x 15m E-W. Grassy pasture surrounds the whole site and there is a cluster of planted deciduous trees affording shelter. RSR March 1999.

A two celled building, by the roadside next to a gate onto common land, measuring 12m x 5m on a N-S axis. The North cell is 8m x 5m whilst the South cell is 4m x 5m. The East side of the building has been either destroyed or obscured by road widening. The build is of drystone, with wall bases 1m wide and up to 1m high maximum. The South cell has an entrance in the West side whilst the North cell has no obvious entrance. Appended to the West side is a bay or fold 3m wide by 6m long, although this may continue further to link up to a field boundary to the North. Sketch in DRF. RSR March 1999.

The wall base is over 1m wide and as much as 0.5m high. The site is very grassy with some stones protruding through. The structure is slightly cut into the slope at the NW end, with a slight negative platform towards the SE which rises up to 1m above the land surface. There is no obvious entrance but there is slight evidence to suggest that it is on the NE side. RSR March 1999.

Not found. Information supplied to G. Williams during the field visit to PRN 1982 by Mr Herbert, Penlan, Lledrod. The site lies on ground sloping to the west, in a pasture field formerly ploughed (as stated by Mr Herbert and as confirmed by a lynchet built up against a hedge on the west of the field). Burnt debris was noted by Mr Herbert exposed in and thrown out of a ditch (?) a re-used stream) immediately to the south of a hedge and some 30m west of the eastern boundary of the field. There were no surface traces of a mound. Nothing was found during field inspection in the company of Mr Herbert. The ground adjacent to the ditch at the position where Mr Herbert thought the mound was located is now overgrown with gorse. GW 1994

Drystone ruin, roofless. In the shelter of a stand of mature beech trees. Most of stonework remains intact and is of good quality. E-W axis. Internally there are surviving patches of cobbled flooring to the East end and some flagstones centrally, and a low, raised platform at the West end. The flagstones appear to form the floor to a former passage between opposed entrances in the centre of the North and South walls, presumably there were once wooden partitions dividing the interior into two rooms divided by a cross-passage.

A few metres NW of building PRN 37137 is a small shelter, presumably a pigsty. This survives as a small drystone structure, now roofless, with a small pen or yard on its East side.

A large multi-roomed building which may be single dwelling with attached outbuildings or a row of two or more dwellings. There are certainly 6 rooms arranged on a N-S axis, the northernmost of which appears to have been used as a dwelling. The structure occupies a large terrace, parallel to the contour, created by quarrying into the hillslope which may well have been the source of the building stone. On the bank above and to the W of the structure are a series of earthwork potato clamps. Presumably related to adjacent structure PRN 37140.

20m SE of PRN 37139 and presumably associated with it is a single building which appears to be a cottage. Survives as a drystone ruin, but largely intact up to gable and wallplate height. Now roofless.
