

4 No. 3

Ceibwr

Flint Implement 1042

On the cliff we found a somewhat large fragment of a chipped flint implement (apparently a Celt). This is important, as Ceibwr is between two cliff castles, and the flint tends to show that in the north, as in the south, the occupants of these fortresses used stone cutlery.

OWNERSHIP AND TENANCY DETAILS