

COMMENT	AUTHORITY
Remains of what may have been an elliptical contour fort on the north rise of a hill 550yds W by N of Woodhouse Farm, one mile south of Wandsworth.	Arch. Camb. HE ROESE 1979, p. 152, vol. 128, [i]
Only the N.W. part has survived at. $51^{\circ}47'14\frac{1}{2}"$, $4^{\circ}32'13"$	-publishing Cantrill's excavation notes + list of sites discovered but not included in RCATHM. inventories
Vague traces of a sub-rectangular enclosure can be seen on the AP's close to the point given by Cantrill above.	RAF AP's 1946 1066-UK-1625 3200-1
This is not visible. However, in the adjoining field southwards there is a stretch of hedgeline meaning which which which curves and follows the line of a vague cropmark to the east	Meridian AP's 1955 220-210, 26949-50