

11. (PRN11875) LONG HUT SN 77158835. Bwlch yr Hengwyn (Powys). Fig. 5.

Situated on a terrace between the Hengwm and Llechwedd-Mawr 10 m x 4 m, aligned E-W, standing up to 70 cm out of the peaty silt. The western end has been badly eroded. An upright shale slab within the hut may have been a door jamb. 5 m to the south is a low mound, possibly a midden. A field wall encircles the river terrace, the hut lies 4 m to the east of this field and may be contemporary with it.
