

COMMENT			AUTHORITY
9 No. 2	Near Nevern	Old house and Legend 12909
Trellyffant: an old house. Here lived Sisillus Esceirhir, i.e. Cecil Longlegs, who according to Giraldus (Rolls edition, VI, 110) was eaten up by toads. Formerly a toad in green marble was fixed over a mantelpiece. This is now in the keeping of Morris Owen Esq. at his house in Haverfordwest. N.B. Mr. Owen's arms are "a toad proper".
Strong earthworks at SN 084 420 show in an AP taken by Chris Mussen in 1990			DAT.