

COMMENT

AUTHORITY

A multi-vallate hillfort surviving as a cropmark, comprising a strong inner ditch c 50m NS by 40m EW. The outer defenses, which are probably of two phases, comprise an outer ditch c 70m in diameter with another ditch springing from the middle one to form a widely spaced annex on the NW and W sides. There is a slight hint of a possible continuation of ~~the~~ ditch in the SE side, which may be a continuation of the middle ditch on this side. No certain entrance visible.

TAD 6-10-89

