

COMMENT

AUTHORITY

Still on the north of Milford Haven, two handsome and similar circular dometop dovecotes survive from the Middle Ages, both secluded and both with vaulted undercrofts close by. At Great Nash (23), Llangwm, the dovecote snuggles between two pleasing later farm buildings and a hundred yards away the two fine barrel vaults of the early house lie beneath a few ruined walls.