

46 No. 1                      St. Elvis near Solva                      Cliff Castle                      2790

Dinas Mawr. Indications of fortification very slight; on the sea side of the isthmus are several excavated places, varying in form, which may have been hut foundations, but as on the land side there has been surface working for lead and copper, the age and purpose is doubtful.

Difficult to trace any ramparts, very rocky ridge cut away by mining 4327

Murphy 1986