Brawdy

Llether House 2814

Though an old house, Llether seems more recent than Brawdy Manor. Until a little while ago there was a bridge leading from the upper storey into the garden. The house is said to be built on the site of an older mansion. This house also belonged to the Jones family. See Fenton, 142.

This PRN represents the 2 manors of Llether ie Lower Llether, Superior Llether or Llether David & Upper Llether, ~~or~~ Superior Llether, or Llether Grono. These were united, later, to form one manor
