Marloes Church

Church

2946

Marloes Church is dedicated to St. Peter. It has no particular architectural features. The original church was on the shore, but owing apparently to a depression of the land surface has been destroyed by the sea. No return as to date of registers has been received. For references see Fenton, 162 and Lewis' Topographical Dictionary.

In 1874 the upper portion of the walls was rebuilt + modern windows inserted
