This camp overlooks the Pill. The internal measurements are, from north to south 83 yards; from east to west 54 yards. The ground slopes considerably towards the west. A slaughter-house has been built just above the camp on the east. The bank on the west has been removed, but there is a high bank on the east, where there is no natural support. The highest bank remaining is on the south-east, which is about 9 feet on the inside and about 14 feet on the outside.
