Lies just above Church Hill brook, towards which the land slopes. There is no trace of a bank on the north and east, where the camp was protected by a deep declivity towards the stream which joins the Church Hill brook. There is a bank on the south and west 4 ft high, and in places on the west 12 ft inside and 16 ft outside but in places 20 ft high outside. There is a good well on the north-west. Internal measurements from north to south, 96 yds; from west to top of declivity on east, 103 yds.
