

65 No. 2

Robeston Wathen Camp

3585

Semi-circular earth camp with stone quarries at the extremities. It seems as if when the builders had completed the earthen portion now extant, they came on rock, so instead of continuing the foss and vallum, chose rather to dig stone from the two extremities and build a wall. If this surmisal is correct, that wall has been entirely removed.