

65 No. 3

Robeston Wathen

Camp

3586

A large camp, similar in shape to the last. The northern segment of the circle is wanting; but as on this side there is a rocky hill, that may have been considered a sufficient defence; or there may have been a wall, since removed. There is a clearly-defined entrance on the east.