Tenby

Cross

3711, 10528

CRUX PISCATORUM, Court Rolls, Sept. 15th, 1614. Besides this and the Wool Cross it would seem as if a third once stood in Tenby, which first was carried to St. Augustine Street, College Green, Bristol, and then to the Grounds, Stourport, to which place it was taken by Sir Richard Colt Hoare (See A Tour in Quest of Genealogy by H. Jones, page 210.) This book was written by Fenton.
