

Small white quartz standing stone
situated at the edge of a wet Pasture Field (called Cae maen llwyd) MR Davies the Farmer pointed out that the stone seems to be gradually sinking into the ground, because of the lack of field drains.

A.S. Mawll

24.2.84.

