

A sub-rectangular enclosure situated on a small hill and cut to the S. by a WE hedgeline.

The northern half of the enclosure survives as a ploughed-down bank strongest around the NW angle where it measures c1.2m outer height and 1.0m inner height. There is a slight ditch here which may extend into the next field. The bank diminishes in height further east and there is no visible sign of a ditch here.

There is no trace of the enclosure on the south side.

E. Evans 8/3/84

