20 No. 14	Llanychllwydog Church
The parish church of Llanychllwydog. Fenton, p. 570, says: "The church is said to have been founded by Clydawc, a Regulus of the country, who was murdered in the neighbourhood as he was pursuing the chase, and whose grave, by tradition, is marked by 2 upright stones visible in the churchyard." This building is dedicated to St. David.	4336
