

No information

A.S. Mull

7.2.1984

There are vestiges of an old chapel still discernible on the farm of Treed y Rhin. The wall of the churchyard can be easily traced and the adjoining field is called CAE YR HEN EILWYS. It is supposed to have been ruined in the reign of Henry VIII or earlier.

J Rowlands 1866

Historical Notes

based on

S Lewis 1833

Topographical Dictionary of Wales

The AP's show no evidence for this chapel

RAF 1946 106G UK 1471, 1329-30

Meridian Airmaps 1955 230-

230, 23671-3