

Prob 1801

74 No. 3

Robeston

Hall

6886

The hall is a late 18th century building and a residence of the Scourfields of Moat. Fenton, p. 354.

"Note - Mansion erected about 1815"

T. Nicholas 1872

Presently a country Hotel and Restaurant was recently on sale for £158,000.

Large house of several periods under 18th cloak: a fireplace of 1603, another with fine early 18th heraldry. Sold to Scourfields of Moat c. 1760. Destroyed by fire in 24th August 1921, "with an enormous quantity of old books" Barn and ice-house remain.

Zloyd, T, 1986