

A circular field, the interior of which is ~~now~~ built over by 3 houses. A resident of one told me that when the houses were built the late J F Jones (of Barn. Museum) recovered "Roman Pottery" and "Glass" ? Site overlooks possible Roman bridging point. A

T. A. Jones
(21. 9. 79)

The circular field is now surrounded by building development but the circular shape is still preserved

Nov 1983.