

COMMENT

AUTHORITY

A smaller, ruined farmhouse of this group is to be found beneath undergrowth at Croft Twfty (26) just to the north of the St. Davids to Solva road.

These conical farmhouse chimneys are in marked contrast to the much earlier cylindrical chimneys of the Bishop's Palace, chimneys which may well have been the prototypes for their later and stubbier successors.