Crug yr Hwch

Site of Cairn 945

"The Sow's Crag" seems to lead up to the Arthurian Legend and may refer either to one of the sows which are said to have followed the boar Trwyth, or to the Henwen (the old Lady), that sow of Dallwyn Dallben, who passed through Dyved, leaving behind her a grain of barley and a pig, from whence sprang the celebrated barley and swine of Pembrokeshire.
