

Mr. S. Briggs,
R.C.A.H.M.,
Edleston House,
Queen's Road,
ABERYSTWYTH.

3 May 1983.

Dear Steve,

We recently picked up a mention in a Transactions of the Card. Ant. Society to a "Roman phallic figure" from a bog near Strata Florida (graffiti?) which is meant to be housed in the Museum here. Chris Delaney wheeled out a remarkably un-phallic (and unRoman, to my inexperienced eye) little figure, and mentioned that you also in the past had been enquiring about this reference.

To cut a long story short, did you get any further with your enquiries? (Also a Roman child's doll?)

Best wishes

