Introduction and historic background

The Dyfed Archaeological Trust (DAT) was consulted by Glastir contract manager Nia Jackson-Jones regarding a proposal to undertake scrub clearance on a ruined stone structure.

Historic Environment Issues

There are no records held by DAT showing any structures at the location of the site. However the 1st edition OS map shows a small enclosure suggesting an area is being specifically defined. Photographs provided by the contract manager show ruins of a stone structure, possibly a small cottage or out-field barn/stock house.

From the evidence available DAT is happy that scrub clearance work will be positive management of the historic environment and welcome the works.
