We do not hold any information regarding the current condition of these historic environment features, which may survive as earthworks or buried archaeological deposits. We therefore recommend that the areas marked out in green on the map above should be treated as archaeologically sensitive and protected from damage during forest operations.

There is always the possibility for previously unknown remains to survive within this area of which we have no knowledge. Should further archaeological features or finds be identified it is important that Dyfed Archaeological Trust Heritage Management is informed and further information and advice can then be provided as required.
