This prehistoric funerary complex appears to lie within a compartment which is not part of the plantation. It is archaeologically a highly sensitive complex and there are likely to be archaeological remains which are not visible and may be vulnerable to damage, therefore forest activities should avoid the area marked out in green in the above map.

There is always the possibility for previously unknown remains to survive within this area of which we have no knowledge. Should further archaeological features or finds be identified it is important that Dyfed Archaeological Trust Heritage Management is informed and further information and advice can then be provided as required.
