Dear Gerwyn,

FLA 97 20-21 Lodge Wood

Thank you for your consultation. I have checked the map boundaries against the regional Historic Environment Record (HER) and other sources and note the following historic environment features recorded within the consultation area:

PRN 1990
SITE TYPE: HILLFORT
PERIOD: IRON AGE
NGR: SN61507872
STATUS: SCHEDULED MONUMENT
DESCRIPTION:

Old Warren Hill is an Iron Age fort lying on an inland promontory above the Paith valley at 130m above sea level. The site is naturally well-defended by the steep valley sides to the west, south and east, and by bivallate ramparts to the north. The main defence consists of a 170m length of bank and ditch, 15m wide and up to 5m high above the outside ground surface. The ditch measures c. 1.5m deep. A 70m long second similar sized line of defence supplements the inner defence at the east end. A simple entrance lies at the western end of the inner defensive bank. The steep slope on the east seems to have been scarped to provide addition defence. The interior approximates to the square 175m across, and is relatively flat. The whole site is under deciduous woodland. K Murphy 22 December 2005 - compiled from several sources

This site is a Scheduled Monument. It is important that Cadw is consulted for management advice as part of this application.

landscape park of Nanteos together form one of the most important survivals of a grand Georgian estate in Wales. The natural landscape is beautiful and has been well exploited by the design of the landscape park and pleasure grounds to form a very attractive setting to the house" (Cadw/ ICOMOS 2002, 140)

Future woodland management should address how best to maintain the historic configuration and visual character of the landscape park around Nanteos. Nanteos is a Cadw Grade II* registered parkland. It is important that Cadw is consulted for further advice as part of this application.

There is always the possibility for previously unknown remains to survive within this area of which we have no knowledge. Should further archaeological features or finds be identified it is important that Dyfed Archaeological Trust Heritage Management is informed and further information and advice can then be provided as required.
