Hi Ant,

Apologies for the delay in providing a response to your enquiry. I will provide a full reply this afternoon.

In the meantime I am forwarding this to Alice Pyper at Dyfed Archaeological Trust – Alice – please can you provide comments on potential impacts of Ant's proposals on undesignated historic assets. The planting is scheduled for 19th March, with preparatory work scheduled for the week before.

Best wishes,
Louise

Dear Louise,

My colleague, Matt Pyart, suggested I speak to you about a tree planting project I'm developing near Wolfscastle. The land we have access to is highlighted in light blue on the map below and includes the SAM West Ford Camp (PE257). We have no desire to plant trees on or near the monument and would value your input to develop our plans. The scheme will take the fields out of agricultural production in favour of creating a publically accessible space including woodland and meadow. My idea would be that the monument would be managed as meadow with light grazing or an annual cut. My urgent need is to begin the tree planting aspect in the next month or so. The plan is to plant the part highlighted in dark blue at the north western edge to take advantage of some funding which is available whilst avoiding the monument, then develop a more considered plan for the rest of the area over the coming years.

My question to you therefore is twofold:

- Is there any reason from your perspective not to plant the initial tranche of trees in a strip to the north west of the monument imminently?
- Can we liaise to establish exactly the extent of any areas you would like to see managed in any particular way as the project moves forward? This bit will develop over the coming few years.

Happy to chat through this if you like, but the initial tree planting strip is urgent to catch the tree planting season and take advantage of funding in this financial year.

Regards,

Ant Rogers
